

Disclaimer: The opinions and information on this website have not been evaluated by any official body. They should not be construed as healthcare advice, and they are not intended to diagnose, reduce or cure any disease. They are complementary to, and should not take the place of, diagnosis and treatment from a medical professional. If you have a medical condition, or require medical or health advice, you should contact your GP. The Scenar is certified by the EU for pain control. In the US the Scenar is registered with the FDA as a biofeedback device for muscle re-education and relaxation training. In Russia it is used in many hospitals for a whole variety of health problems. ©

Zephiloyd 2009